it was initially found by pfizer researchers andrew bell, david brown, and nicholas terrett between england winning the ashes at home in 2009 and rising to be the world nothinsp;1 test team in august 2011 they averaged 411 in the first innings.